6. Which cookies does Shell use?

The Website uses cookies or similar technology. A cookie is a small text file that is sent to your internet browser so that we are able to recognise your browser when you return. Shell and its authorised service providers may use small graphic images known as 'clear GIFs' that work in conjunction with cookies to identify you and your use of the Website and/or App. Shell and such service providers may also use other technologies to store information in your browser utilising local shared objects or local storage, such as HTML 5 cookies, flash cookies and other web application software methods.

Using these technologies we can collect data on the use of the Website such as which pages are visited, your interaction with information on the Website and the duration of your visit.

Functional cookies – Shell stores cookies that are essential in providing the functionalities of the Website and/or App. For instance, the cookies remember your preferences, such as language and region, which remain as your default settings when you revisit the Website and/or App. However, should you wish to do so, you can choose to reject or block the cookies set by Shell by changing your browser settings – see the Help function within your browser for further details.

Web analytics cookies – Shell may use third party cookies for web analysis. Such cookies allow Shell to analyse the usage of the Website and/or App. This relies on aggregated statistical data that Shell's authorised service providers provide Shell and allows Shell to understand the way you use the Website and/or App. Shell and such service providers may only provide such data to third parties if this is required by law.

Advertising cookies – Shell may use third party cookies for advertising purposes. Shell may use authorised service providers to serve advertising on the Website and/or App and other websites on the internet. Such service providers may place cookies on your browser, and may collect information that helps them identify your device, such as IP-address, or other unique or device identifiers.

Please note that most browsers automatically accept cookies so if you do not wish cookies to be used you may need to actively delete or block the cookies.

You can also visit www.allaboutcookies.org for details on how to delete or reject cookies and for further information on cookies generally. For information on the use of cookies in mobile phone browsers and for details on how to reject or delete such cookies, please refer to your handset manual.

Note, however, that if you reject the use of cookies you will still be able to visit our websites but some of the functions may not work correctly and you may no longer be able to use all the functionalities of the Website.

7. Special Notice – if you are under 18 years old?

Shell does not intentionally collect personal data of persons under 18 years old. If you are under 18 years old please do not send us your personal data (for example, your name, address and email address). If you are less than 18 years old and you wish to ask a question or use the Website in anyway which requires you to submit your personal data please get your parent or guardian to do so on your behalf.

8. How do we secure your personal data?

We have implemented technology and policies with the objective of protecting your privacy from unauthorised access and improper use.

9. Who to address regarding questions and requests of access, removal etc.

We aim to keep our data about you as accurate as possible. If you would like to review, change or delete the details you have supplied to us, please send your request by contacting our Customer Service Center at 1-300-88-1808.

10. Modifications and Conflict

- a. This Privacy Policy may be changed over time. You are advised to regularly review the Privacy Policy for possible changes. In the event of conflict between the English version and the Bahasa Malaysia version of this notice, the English version shall prevail.
